The Dean's Message
1998 Terra Mariae

The Class of 1998 started out as a disparate group - individuals from all over the world from diverse backgrounds and with very individualistic personalities! During the years at Maryland, the class grew more cohesive, more caring for each other and more compassionate for the persons and patients they would serve. The class quickly adapted to the patient-centered learner-oriented nature of the doctor of pharmacy curriculum. Tutoring programs and study groups helped all members of the class succeed.

As the years passed, the class reached outside of the halls of the campus to contribute actively to community service programs. Habitat for Humanity, the Ronald McDonald House, and students at Baltimore City Schools benefitted from the unselfish work of the Class of 1998. Under the leadership of President Sandra Werking and the other officers, the class made its views felt through the School and prompted notable improvements in both our programs and our quality of life.

By the time graduation rolled around, the class was just as diverse and just as individualistic as it was when it started, but was much more focused and cohesive. Qualities of leadership became apparent in many fields of endeavor. The range and sophistication of positions accepted by the members of this Class are a testament to its success. The influence of the Class of 1998 will be felt in pharmacy for decades to come!

This volume of the Terra Mariae captures within its brief pages a synopsis and panorama of the activities of the School during the last year. Reviewing its pages will excite the mind and bring back important memories. Without the Terra Mariae, those memories would disappear faster than any of us would like. With this publication at hand, we won't soon forget the legacy of the Class of 1998. Congratulations and best wishes for the next fifty years of compassionate contributions to the health and well being of the patients who you will serve!

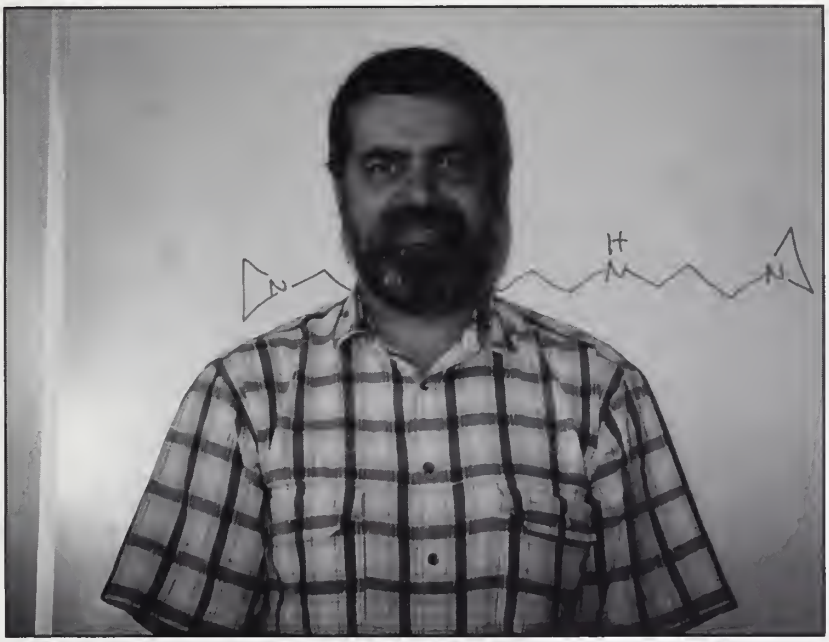
Patrick S. Callery, PhD

Teacher, Mentor, Friend
University of Maryalnd Faculty
1974-1997



In Dedication to Dr. Patrick S. Callery

Dr. Patrick S. Callery was a faculty member in the School of Pharmacy for more than 23 years. During that time he played many oles, including: teacher, mentor, inventor, scholar, pharmacist and administrator. Soon after he came to the school of Pharmacy after inishing his Ph. D. at UCSF in 1974, he began developing a new radiographic imaging agent which resulted in a patented compound. This agent was widely used for gall bladder imaging and produced royalties which provided significant financial support to the School or almost two decades.

However, first and foremost he was a teacher and a mentor for professional students, graduate students and young faculty, like nyself. He taught a variety of courses but his passion was organic chemistry. His door was always open to students and faculty alike, nd he was always ready to engage in a lively debate over some organic reaction mechanism. His enthusiasm for teaching was nfectious.

He was also a noted scholar engaging in collaborative research directed at developing new agents in the treatment of cancer. He also had substantial expertise in instrumental methods, mass spectrometry being a field of specialization. Because of his expertise in these many areas he served as a consultant to the FDA for many years.

In addition he was a dedicated administrator providing important service to the school in the development of the graduate program His recent promotion to the Chair of the Department of Basic Pharmaceutical Sciences and Assistant Dean for Research and Graduate Programs at the School of Pharmacy in Morgantown, West Virginia is a logical extension of his years of dedicated service to the School of Pharmacy here in Baltimore.

Dr. Callery we wish you continued success in your career. Morgantown's gain is our loss. I will miss our lively discussions dearly.

Ronald D. Guiles, Ph. D.

Drug Information Center

David A. Mays, PharmD, BCPS
Director, Drug Information Services

The University of Maryland Drug Information Service, established within the School of Pharmacy in 1990, provides comprehensive medical information to contract affiliated, but not limited to, patient-specific and adverse drug reaction consultations, guidelines for use, formulary monograph/review preparation and management, and newsletter support. The UMDI and it's staff are also charged with the education of UMB PharmD students in the practice of medical literature analysis. Students are educated on the proper utilization of on-line databases and search strageties in the hope of making them more proficient in the assimilation of information. The UMDI also participates in ongoing Internet Drug Information Services, which provide WWW users the ability to submit question to qualified, trained pharmacy staff. These questions are not limited in any way to geographic region or subject. The UMDI answers each question on an individual basis, usually within 7 business days and many within hours.

The Maryland Poison Center

Staff:
Bruce D. Anderson, PharmD, ABAT: Director of Operations
Wendy Klein-Schwartz, PharmD, MPh: Coordinator of Research and Education
Bernadine M. Walker: Administrative Assistant
Cathleen Clancy, MD, ABMT: Medical Director
Lisa Booze, CSPI: Clinical Coordinator
J. Green Shepherd, PharmD: Fellow in Clinical Toxicology
Gary Wilson, Administrative Support
Kevin McCracken: Computer Support
CSPI's: Lisa Aukland, Kevin Simons, Jacquelyn (Lyn) Goodrich, Eric Scheutz, Randy Goldberg, Anne Tschirgi, Paul Starr, Mike Hoitis & Mike Joines

The Maryland Poison Center (MPC) is a community service program of the University of Maryland, Baltimore, School of Pharmacy. This life and dollar saving service is available by phone 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The center moved to the School of Pharmacy in 1972 and it has continued to achieve excellence each day by responding to poisoning and overdose questions for all Marylanders. The entire poison control staff is composed of pharmacists and nurses who have additional training in clinical toxicology and are certified as specialists in poison information (CSPI by the American Association of Poison Control Centers.

Center for the Study of Pharmacy and Therapeutics for the Elderly

The Center for the Study of Pharmacy and Therapeutics for the Elderly is the focus of geriatric education, research and service programs for the School of Pharmacy. The Center publishes a quarterly newsletter, ElderCare News, which goes to more the 47,000 health care professionals nationally and internationally. In addition, the Elder-Health Program produces more than twenty customer education brochures. Under the auspices of the Center, the Elder-Health Program provides consumer drug education programs to the elderly, their caregivers and to health care professionals both in Maryland and nationally. The Center also provides a number of courses that pharmacy students may take as electives, such as Geriatric Drug Education or Elder Visitation, which prepares them to interact with the older patients to improve medication outcomes. Support for the Center is given in the form of grants from the private and public sectors.

The Center is headed by Dr. Madeline Feinberg, who has been with the Center since its inception in 1979. In addition, several other faculty members contribute to the Center. Dr. Becky Nagle joined the Center in 1994 and has developed a geriatric inpatient practice at the Veteran's Affairs Medical Center in Baltimore. She has also developed an elective course for students interested in geriatric pharmacotherapy and has initiated research concerning drug use among the assisted-living, elderly population. Drs. Robert Michocki, Ilene Zuckerman, Myron Weiner and Beverly Yachmetz have also been actively involved in Center activities. Among the most popular experiences for students are the outpatient geriatric evaluation clinics precepted by Drs. Michocki and Zuckerman. Dr. Weiner's geriatric pharmacology course is also a longtime student favorite as well.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us or we find it not. — Ralph Waldo Emerson

Every day in the halls of the Pharmacy School, memories are created. The Terra Mariae tries to captu these special moments. It is our hope that you can take these wonderful memories where ever the road may tal you in the journey of life. Think back on all of the laughs, smiles, and yes, even the complaint sessions that y may have experienced while in pharmacy school. These pages are for you.

The yearbook is made possible through a lot of hard work and dedication. The Terra Mariae could not l published without the dedicated and persevering staff. Every year the staff of Terra Mariae goes throug many hardships and tribulations to get the yearbook published. This year was no exception. We'd like to thar all of the people that helped us get through these hard times.

First and foremost, we'd like to thank our fearless leader, Dr. Alex MacKerell . Without his help ar perseverance, the yearbook would never made it's way out of the computer room. Secondly, we'd like to thar Rob O'Conner, our Taylor Publishing representative. Rob's patience and guidance served to help us throug the worst of the "yearbook times".

Extra-special thanks goes out to the lovely ladies on the seventh floor of Pharmacy Hall. We'd like to thar Ann Bonaparte, Brenda Conrad, Carolyn Footman, and Elaine Jackson for their valued assistance.

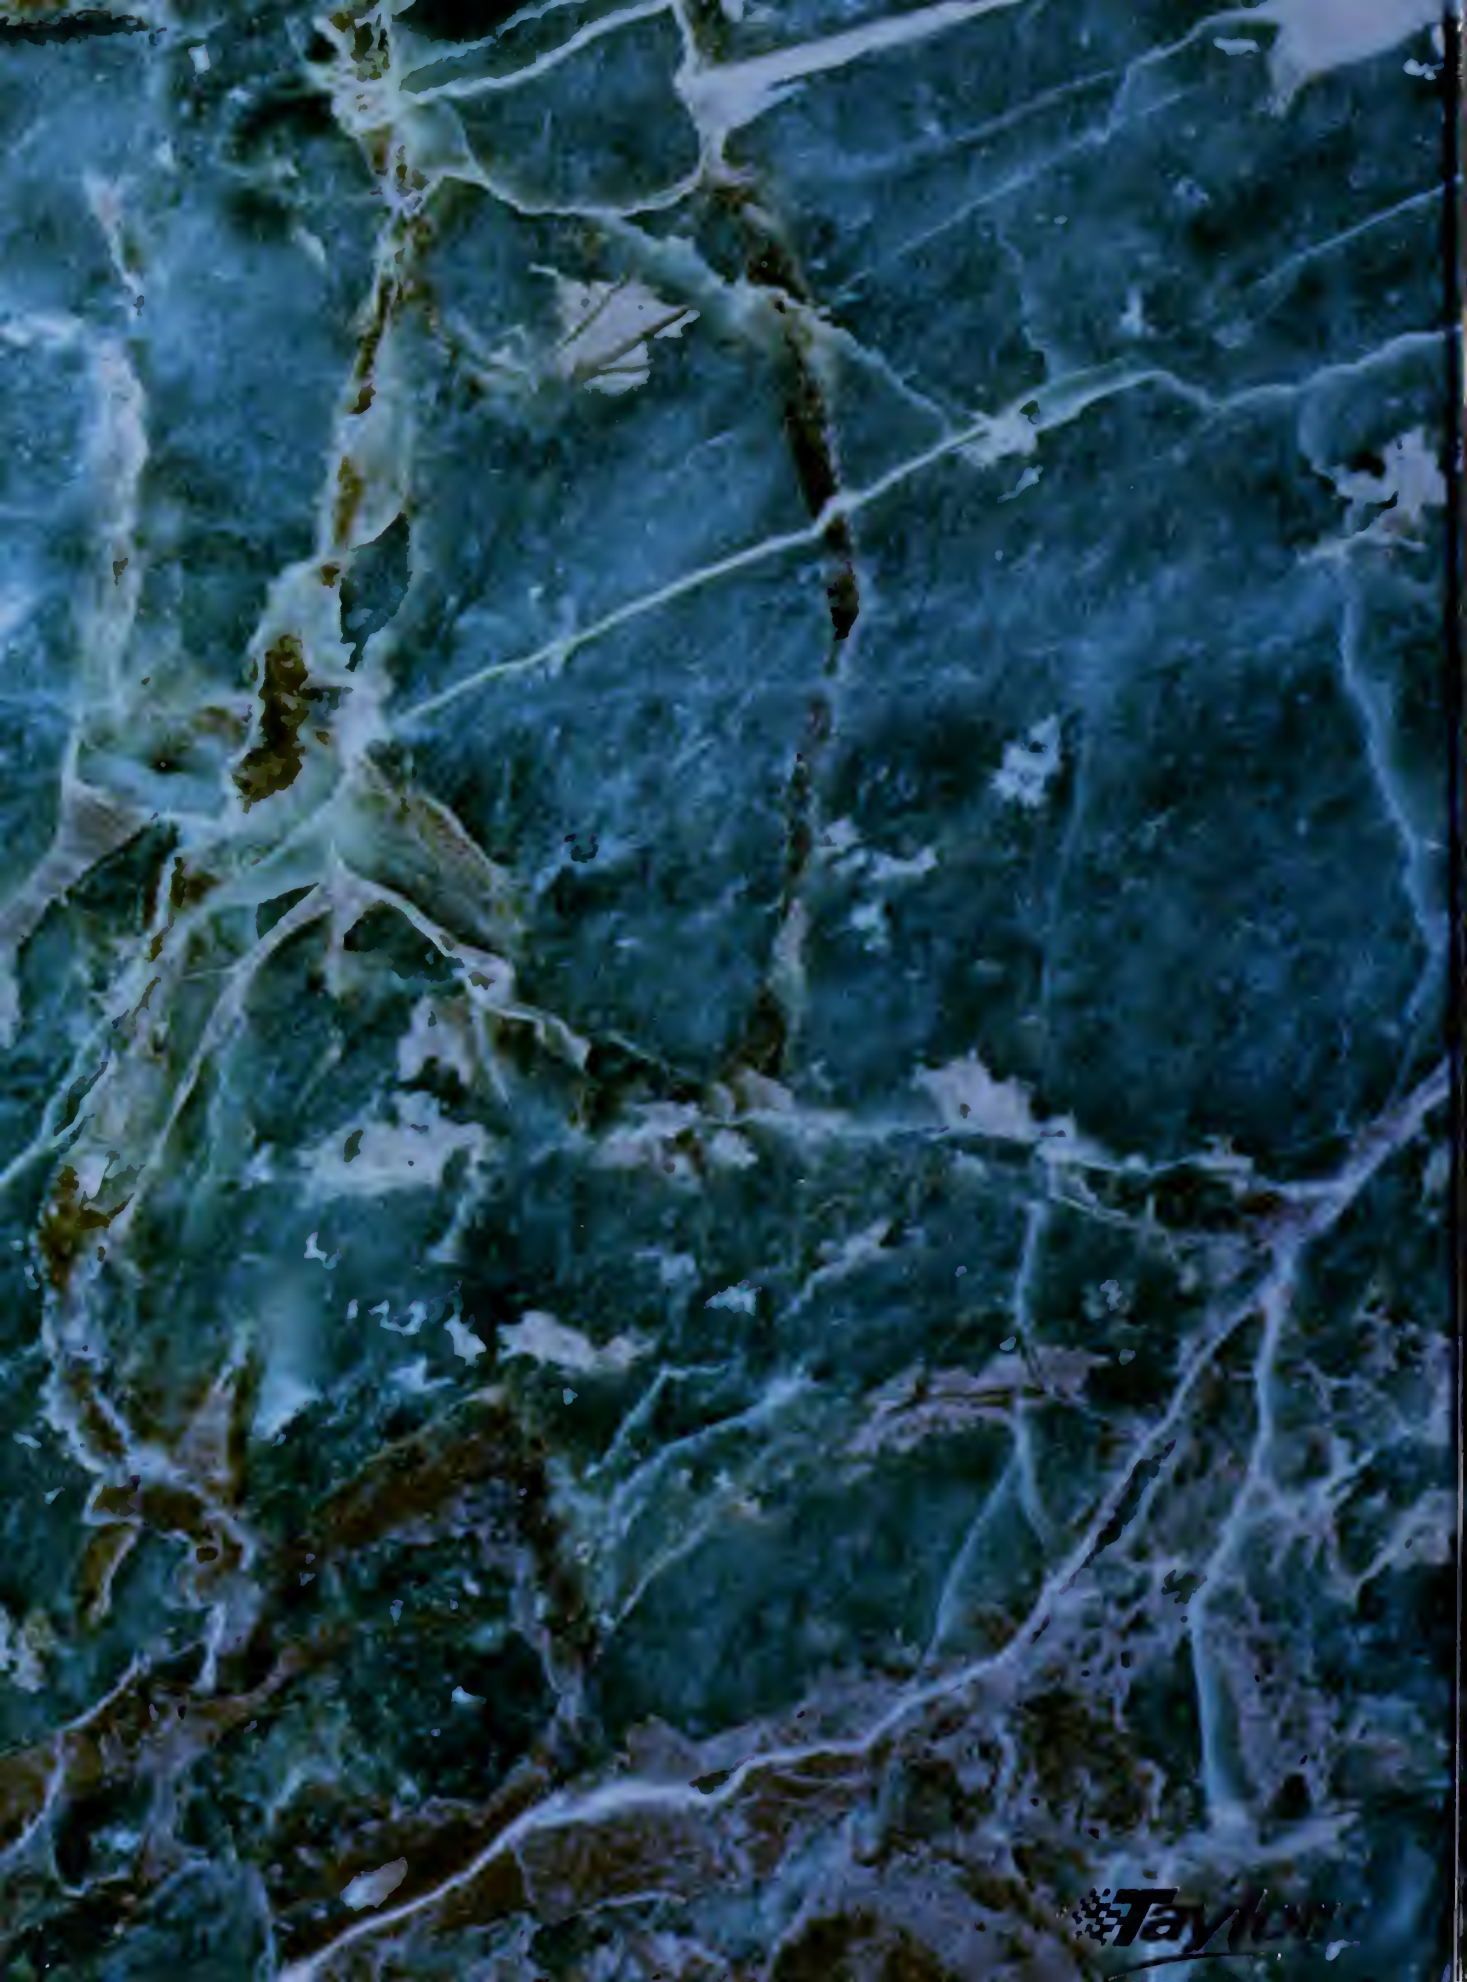
We also thank Dr. Ronald Guiles for writing the dedication for Dr. Patrick Callery and Dr. Beardsl for writing Nellie Phar-Maletta's dedication. In addition, we'd also like to thank all of the students w added their input and special comments to Ms. Phar-Maletta's dedication.

Sincere thanks goes out to all of historians who helped take pictures and to those that worked so hard on t layouts. Thanks goes out to Debbie Cruz (1998 Senior Class Historian and Senior Editor), Seth Coh (1999 Class Historian and Co-editor), Cherokee Layson (2000 Class Historian and Co-editor), and Jani Sadek (2001 Class Historian). We'd also like to thank all of the organization historians: Dan Ehrlic Monica Pogue, Marty Eng, Toni Orr, Sherry Chang, Jason Chvat, Sargita Naik, Mark Shufor Dee Dee Reams, and John Neely . A heart-felt thanks also goes out to Robin Garner-Smith, Co-edit for her dedication and all of the time she dedicated to this year's Terra Mariae.

We'd also like to send out our gratitude to Senior Editor, Dawn Johnson. We thank her for all of l words of wisdom. Dawn has made the Terra Mariae a success for the past five years. Thank you Ms. Johns and we wish you continued success in the road ahead.

Finally, thanks to everyone who shared in the memory-making and good times in 1997 and 1998!!!

Sincerely,
The Yearbook Staff



Taylor
